Architectural Historian Cultural Resource Analysts, Inc. May 2022 – present	Architectural Historian Wood EI&S. September 2021 – May 2022	Preservation Specialist Blue Grass Trust for Historic Preservation, 2019 – 2021

Brittany Sams comes to CRA with four years of experience in historic preservation, including non-profits, preservation advocacy groups, public history sites, and cultural resources. In addition to having considerable experience in preservation advocacy and being on multiple boards related to local preservation efforts, she is skilled in research and technical writing. As an architectural historian at CRA, Brittany’s responsibilities include researching and documenting historic properties by conducting archival research and field surveys, evaluating the significance of historic properties, and preparing written reports that provide summary findings and recommendations.

Brittany Sams holds a Master of Historic Preservation degree from the University of Kentucky. While at UK, her coursework included historic preservation principles and planning, cultural landscapes, historical structural systems and building materials, building and landscape documentation, American architectural history, and internships in urban planning and community development and historic sites. Brittany currently serves on the board of the Franklin County Trust, the City of Frankfort Architectural Review Board, the City of Frankfort’s African American Heritage Committee, and as a representative of Franklin County’s historic resources on the City of Frankfort’s Comprehensive Plan Advisory Committee.
