Mr. Hurley began employment as an Architectural Historian for Cultural Resource Analysts, Inc.’s Lexington office in July 2022. As an Architectural Historian, John’s responsibilities include researching and documenting historic properties by conducting archival research and field surveys, evaluating the significance of historic properties, and preparing written reports that provide summary findings and recommendations for various types of cultural historic projects.

Prior to his employment with CRA, Mr. Hurley taught eighth grade and high school history courses at Trimble County Junior and Senior High, served as an academic and standardized test tutor for a Chicago-based company, and taught in Chicago Public Schools. While completing his education, Mr. Hurley served as a graduate assistant in Northeastern Illinois’s History Department and helped lead a study abroad class in Seville, Spain, and tutored students for history, English, and education courses.
